How to Write & Publish Your Own Book

This one-day seminar describes the three possible ways to get your book published—through traditional publishing, vanity publishing or self-publishing. Potential advantages and disadvantages of each method are explored. Because of the difficulties of finding a traditional publisher, the high costs of vanity publishing and the rising popularity of self-publishing, this seminar emphasizes the self-publishing process. This seminar is for anyone writing a book of fiction or non-fiction, personal experience, family history, children's picture book, religious materials, poetry, educational materials or other works. At the end of the seminar, you should be able to make an informed decision of how to proceed to get your book published through one of the three possible book publishing methods.
