Hemp is the belle of the crop ball in 2020, with gardeners and farmers lined up for a chance to dance—but desire does not necessarily translate to know-how. From seed to harvest to processing, acreage owners and home gardeners are asking a lot of hemp questions.

Since the 2019 Legislature passed into law the farm bill which would allow hemp farming in Nebraska, it is time to learn what all is involved in this process for the small producer. Dave Sanders will lead this class that will cover licenses/permits, seed sources/seed sexing, soil types, growing cycle, sexing plants, identification of the parts of the plant, insects/prevention, harvest time/drying and lab tests required to comply with the law.

There will be a break for lunch on your own.

It is recommended that you take the Small Scale Hemp Farming class (LLLX-2000) first, however it is not required.

The 2019 Legislature passed into law the farm bill which would allow hemp farming in Nebraska. Acreage owners and home gardeners can get a head start on your spring hemp crop by starting your plants indoors in the winter. This will eliminate feral hemp pollen in the air, allow for increased crops per year and prepare you early to sell your crop. Dave Sanders will lead this class that will cover: feminized seeds, genetics, lighting schedules, soil types, growing cycle, sexing plants and insects and prevention.

There will be a break for lunch on your own.
