SCC AFRICAN AMERICAN READ-IN

THURS., FEB. 27, 2020 | 12:30-2 p.m.

SCC Lincoln Campus, 8800 O St., Café Commons

The National African American Read-In is the nation's first and oldest event dedicated to diversity in literature. It was established in 1990 by the Black Caucus of the National Council of Teachers of English to make literacy a significant part of Black History Month. This initiative has reached more than 6 million participants around the world.

RANKINE Walker Poetry Morrison Neale Hurston WARD
 Cullen Drama Douglas Copeland FICTION Woodson
 STONE Baldwin Mason
 Mbue Marshall

This event promotes diversity by featuring the public reading of works written by African American authors. This event is open to all, and anyone is welcome to read, regardless of background.

Students or staff interested in reading briefly (1-3 minutes) from a poem, novel, short story, or musical piece by an African American author, please contact Jeanine Jewell at jjewell@southeast.edu.

Attendance to this event is approved for 1.0 hours diversity credit for SCC employees. A/E/D Office
