Fall 2020

Beginning Screenwriting

With coaching from a Writers Guild of America Emeritus writer with feature film and broadcast television credits, this is an in-depth opportunity to learn writing for the screen in traditional media, short and feature film, and new media. Discover the basics necessary to write a compelling script that's impossible to stop reading, vividly cinematic, properly formatted, and realistically produce-able. With a focus on the "first 25 pages of your screenplay," this LIVE Online class, with eight live lectures as well as eight weekly online interactive class sessions, prepares you to successfully complete a feature film script (at your own pace), a pilot for a television series or a new media series.

Your instructor Larry Williams will be sending Zoom invite to the first class.

NEW! Fairy Tales in Music

Pied Piper, Little Mermaid, Ugly Duckling—all stories about magical and imaginary beings and lands. Now learn about these classic fairy tales, their origins, and their representation in a piece of instrumental music. In this session, we explore the music behind the tales, through listening, analysis and discussion of their place in musical history.
