

Performing Arts

Fall 2020

Improv 101

Improv is the ability to spontaneously create a scene, in the moment, based on a suggestion. Join us and discover the basic rules of improvisation and make the most of your creativity. Your seasoned improvisational instructor, Tim Mittan, brings professional experience to the classroom so don't miss this great opportunity!

Improv II

Join the fun in Improv II as we build on basic improvisation skills. Using a variety of games and formats, we will focus on building relationships, developing characters and refining performance skills to help you develop the playful improviser within yourself. We will be showing off our skills at the last class.

Improv 101 is not a prerequisite for this course. However, some experience with improvisation would be helpful.

Beginning Screenwriting

With coaching from a Writers Guild of America Emeritus writer with feature film and broadcast television credits, this is an in-depth opportunity to learn writing for the screen in traditional media, short and feature film, and new media. Discover the basics necessary to write a compelling script that's impossible to stop reading, vividly cinematic, properly formatted, and realistically produce-able. With a focus on the "first 25 pages of your screenplay," this LIVE Online class, with eight live lectures as well as eight weekly online interactive class sessions, prepares you to successfully complete a feature film script (at your own pace), a pilot for a television series or a new media series.

Your instructor Larry Williams will be sending Zoom invite to the first class.
