EMERGENCY NOTIFICATIONS

Southeast Community College uses the REGROUP emergency messaging service to deliver email and/or text messages to our faculty, staff, and students during emergencies. These messages will be in addition to the other methods of communications used in the past such as TV, radio, SCC website, etc.

Notifications include:

1. Situations threatening the safety and security of SCC locations.
2. Campus closings due to emergency situations threatening the safety and security of SCC locations, including inclement weather.
3. Class cancellations due to inclement weather.

The system allows the College to effectively reach students on their preferred platforms and provide important information in several different ways with the click of a mouse.

If you have been assigned a username from SCC, the system is available to you. On the Regroup site, users can add cell phone numbers to receive emergency-related text messages. You also can add email addresses. Please go to: <https://southeast.app.regroup.com/login> to sign in and set your preferences for notifications.
