Dichroic Tile for Jewelry

Learn how to layer dichroic glass to create unique and “blingy” jewelry. In class, we will stack dichroic glass and stringers to create a layered tile, which will be fired in the kiln. After assembling your tile with assorted dichroic glass, you will learn techniques for applying decals. After the tile is fired, you will learn how to break it into smaller jewelry size pieces. The dichroic cabochons will need to be fired once more, then we discuss different methods for applying bails and turning the cabochons into pendants, earrings, bracelets, and more!

Class is held at Architectural Glassart, 4025 S. 48th St. Keyword: Jewelry
