This degree can be used for seeking immediate entry-level employment in law enforcement and select federal law enforcement jobs.

Most federal law enforcement positions require a bachelor's degree. Each transfer institution accepts different courses to fulfill their requirements. It is the student's responsibility to check with their receiving institution to see what credits will transfer. Please work closely with an SCC advisor.

Program overview

The Law Enforcement and Homeland Security program equips students with the skills and knowledge needed to begin a career in law enforcement, homeland security and other federal agencies.

This program is designed to support the continued professional growth of in-service practitioners through the enhancement of field specifics and knowledge. The program provides students educational and internship experiences that enable them to succeed in entry-level positions or advance in their criminal justice career. The program provides an overview of the criminal justice system while also focusing on elements of supervision, risk assessment, conflict resolution, communications, and reporting techniques.

SCC's criminal justice faculty have extensive education, knowledge and experience in law enforcement, corrections, juvenile justice, probation, military, prosecution, and defense litigation, as well as the proper procedures and an understanding of criminal law, which means students receive up-to-date information and relevant skills.

Homeland Security Focus

The Homeland Security focus is designed to prepare students for positions in homeland security. Risk management, systems integration, threat dynamics and the legal, political and ethical issues associated with homeland security are explored. The criminal justice system, perspectives on terrorism, cyber security and continuity of operations also are examined.

Graduates of this program focus may seek employment as homeland security professionals in various occupations, including border, airport and seaport security, as well as employment in the intelligence field, technology security and disaster or emergency response.

Law Enforcement Focus

The Law Enforcement focus is designed to prepare students for immediate entry-level employment in the field of law enforcement. The program also is suitable for adults working in the field of law enforcement who are seeking additional education to advance their careers. This program may lead to employment as a municipal police officer, deputy sheriff, federal enforcement officer, or private or public security officer.

Special Program Requirement

Course offerings and prerequisites will be determined by the program. A grade of "C" or higher is required in all CRIM classes and ENGL1010 (when listed as a prerequisite) to progress through the program.

A Criminal Background Check will be required of each student in this program. Based on the outcome of the background check, a student may be prevented from taking certain courses, accessing certain laboratory experiences, or completing the program. A non-refundable fee of $45 will be assessed for this CBC.
